

THE MORNING APPEAL.

WEDNESDAY.....MARCH 2

GOOD SIGNS FOR SILVER.

The Chicago Inter-Ocean is preaching some good silver doctrine these days. In regard to the reception of the new third party address, it has this remark, after telling how Donnelly scouted the acceptance of silver as the one issued by the Populists, and how Governor Prince of New Mexico "rose to a higher plane" in declining to identify himself with the third party movement and declaring that the true course is to press the campaign of education now in progress in the East, viz.:

That hits the nail on the head and drives it home. A campaign of education is now in progress. It is wholly non-partisan, and it bids fair to be non-sectional. Nothing is more common than to hear the remark, "I never thought much about this money question until lately. Evidently there is something wrong. We have tried protection and free trade; we have tried repealing the silver act and issuing a lot of bonds, and the times are getting worse all the time. Perhaps the restoration of silver is what we want, after all."

This line of thought seems to be running through the minds of the people. It is heard from college presidents, clergymen, judges, bankers, railroad magnates, manufacturers, merchants and capitalists, as well as the farmer and wage-earners in city and country. Obviously a campaign of education is in progress, not through any systematic propaganda or literary bureau, but through the more potential force of circumstances and conditions. Nor is it confined to our own country. The note of inquiry may be distinctly heard in the echoes of the Old World which reach our shores. "The brooding East" is beginning to hatch silver eggs and the people to realize that the stoppage of silver coinage, except for subsidiary purposes, in Europe, the United States, and India, was the most gigantic robbery of all times. The education of the people is progressing at a highly encouraging rate, especially since the Rothschilds were allowed to make millions on an issue of United States bonds.

BAD POLICY.

It is bad policy for Carson papers to assail the Legislature. They meet here every two years and the people of Carson are more than anxious to have them here because of the business revival to the town. If Carson papers abuse the Legislature indiscriminately the time will come when the Capital will be removed and the goose that lays the golden egg will incubate in some other county. We believe if the Legislature would meet to-morrow the Skaggs bill would stand a good show of passing. This bill moves the Capital to Elko. Molasses is much better than vinegar to catch flies with.

The Officers Vindicated.

The result of the recount before Judge Cheney vindicates absolutely the officers of the Election Board in the second precinct. Bray in a fair count wins by a majority of 15 instead of 12.

A great deal of crimination and re-crimination has been indulged in by partisans of both parties over the election, but now the APPEAL in behalf of itself and the Silver party of Ormsby extends its congratulations and apologies to the officers of the Election Board in that precinct. They have been wholly vindicated of the charge of fraudulent counting.

In this connection it is noticeable that Judge Cheney, a man of more than usual intelligence, assisted by the attorneys, was obliged to count 370 ballots over three times, in order to make them agree with the tally sheet, and he was only counting on two names.

All of this goes to show that mistakes in counting are unavoidable under any circumstance under the present system of voting and counting. One good thing resulting from the recount, is that a cloud of suspicion has been lifted from the heads of the members of the Board, and but for the determined and stubborn resistance of the Republicans, the whole matter could have been settled months ago.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The Carson Tribune says Nixon of Humboldt "has reaped a portion of the reward being dispensed to his party by the Southern Pacific Railroad having been appointed claim adjuster."

Now comes the San Francisco Chronicle which says the appointment of claim adjuster lies between

Judge Dudley, of Stockton, California, and Mr. Bender, of Nevada. If the Chronicle is right it must follow from the logic of the Tribune, that Mr. Dudley or Mr. Bender will reap a portion of the reward being dispensed to the Republican party for services rendered the railroad company. Isn't it probable Mr. Tribune, that the Southern Pacific company may select a gentleman for the important position of claim adjuster because of his business qualifications and not for his political opinions?—Journal.

Every column in a newspaper contains from twelve to twenty thousand pieces of metal, displacement of any which would cause a blunder or typographical error. And yet some people lay claim to remarkable smartness if they can discover an error in a newspaper. When they find a word with a wrong letter in it or a letter misplaced, they are sure they could spell that word right and they are happy for a whole day, and go around to the neighbors and tell them that the editor has spelled a word wrong.—Truckee Republican.

Ex-Governor Waller of Connecticut asserts that the Nutmeg State is five times as corrupt politically as New York City. No man can hope to rise unless he has the backing of the money power. A rich man who wishes to be Governor or Senator calls the district committeemen around him, places his cash with them, and they do the rest.

Captain Constant, of the National Guard at Virginia, has been removed. The reason for the action taken with regard to Captain Constant was because he left the State without a leave of absence, without seeing fit to communicate with the company, and without intending to return.
